

Puppy Social SCHEDULE

It is important for puppies to experience a wide variety of things before they reach adulthood. Focusing on desensitizing and not socializing, is the key component to a successful social schedule. We want our puppies to remain neutral and relaxed around the new things they are experiencing. If your puppy becomes sensitive, nervous or aroused, focus on moving them away from the stimulus until they are able to regain focus on us.

 Make sure your puppy has an understanding of a reward marker and food drive before attempting this social schedule

Sounds

- Car, Trucks, Buses
- Lawnmower
- Fireworks
- Sidewalk Traffic
- Thunderstorms
- Sirens
- Fire Trucks

Different Environments

- Pet Stores
- Grooming Facility
- Boarding Facility
- Dog Friendly Cafes
- Vet Clinic
- Friends Houses
- Car Rides

Puppy Social SCHEDULE

Home Environment

- Doorbell/Door Knock
- Fire Alarm
- Vacuum/Broom/Mop
- Washer/Dryer
- Dishwasher
- Indoors/Outdoors Stairs
- Hair Dryer

People

- Different Ethnicities
- Different Age Groups
- People in Uniform
- People Jogging
- Drunk People
- People Running
- People carrying large items

Surfaces

- Concrete
- Grass
- Snow
- Water
- Dirt
- Gravel
- Sewer Grids

Animals

- Small Dogs
- Large Dogs
- Cats
- Small animals
- Cows
- Horses
- Reptiles